

December 17, 2021

RE: Viking products NOT affected by Java Log4j Vulnerability

To our Valued Customers,

In December, a vulnerability was detected in Log4j, a very common Java library used by millions of software applications worldwide.

Our engineering team has evaluated all of our products for any potential impact. Viking products do NOT use the Java Log4j library and, as a result, the Log4j vulnerability does NOT pose any threat to our products and our customers.

Our team will continue monitoring the situation closely as it evolves to ensure that our products maintain the highest level of security.

If you have any questions or concerns, please email: help@vikingelectronics.com

Thank you for your continued support.

Sincerely,

William Heideman
President

